

Let's live Europe in rural area in France!

EVS project (10 months) -
01.09.17 / 30.06.18

Europe is looking forward to your contribution! Help develop the cultural openness of young people and participate in their learning of citizenship and tolerance. Support their curiosity on intercultural aspects and encourage them to discover Europe!

Become a volunteer in the training center for teenagers and young people in the lovely town of Fyé!

CONTEXT OF THE EVS PROJECT

This EVS project will involve 6 EVS volunteers from 6 different European countries. Each one of them will volunteer in one of the 6 local training centers for teenagers from the area of Sarthe, France. The local training centers are called: the "Maisons familiales rurales" or MFR (literary translated as the "rural family houses").

The volunteer will be hosted in one of the 6 MFR; in the town of Fyé.

Volunteers will be regarded as full members of their team and will be included in the daily work of each center. They will have an opportunity to use and improve their own abilities: volunteers will develop their sense of initiative, gain skills and get new knowledges through organizing and realizing different activities for the MFR (workshops, courses, individual support, sports, games, plays, presentations, lectures).

During the project, the volunteer will mainly be in touch with the young people that are hosted in the MFR, but not only.

He will be encouraged to submit and implement his own project, with possibilities of partnership with other local organizations.

The volunteer will act as an ambassador of his country, and thus will try to promote values such as diversity and intercultural actions.

The purpose of the French MFR is to develop a global approach of education, by using strictly formal, non-formal and informal learnings. Their practices are based on the training system which mixes training and work. In other words, a rhythm that allows the pupils to share between a period of study/training at the MFR and a period of work in a farm, /association or companies

The MFR in figures: 440 MFR in France, 70 000 pupil, apprentices or trainees and more than 600 MFR abroad (in 30 other countries).

The MFR of Fyé has existed for 54 years and welcomes young people from ages 14 to 20 (80% of them are girls).

It offers two types of work-study training (50% of the time in school, 50% in the company):

- Two orientation classes, (14 and 15 years old pupils);
- A professional baccalaureate degree called SAPAT (a degree to become social worker). This professional degree prepares young people for several care-based jobs, such as working with children, caring for the elderly and the disabled, activities related to tourism, community center activities, reception, secretariat...

And

- Continuous training modules (nursery assistants, youth worker, future agricultural employees).
